Inverse problems

INVERSE PROBLEMS AND ALL THAT JAZZ

13:00–15:00 four seminars about inverse problems, aud 13, bldg 308

Essence of inverse problems:

$x \longrightarrow y = f(x)$ normal problem

$x \longleftarrow y$ inverse problem

Application to today:

Per Christian (= x)

All of us (= y)

Now let's consider the inverse problem !

TSVD on Per Christian's papers!

Per Christian as example!

- ▶ Thinking of others!
- ▶ Writing proposals: thinking of others!
Enormous effort writing proposals, always with intention to support others
- ▶ Care for students
- ▶ “I could not care less”: can let go
- ▶ Right level of informality, gentleman
- ▶ Making people feel at home
- ▶ Excellence and modesty
- ▶ True role model
- ▶ Very fun guy ...

If I had to pick 1 role model in science, it would be Per Christian!

Second opinion

- ▶ “Energetic and enthusiastic
- ▶ Innovative
- ▶ Able to pinpoint the essentials of a topic
- ▶ Brilliant writer
- ▶ Ability to learn new topics
- ▶ Generous with strong bonds to his family”

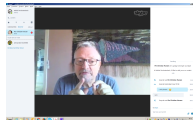

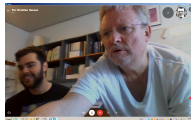

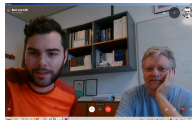

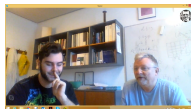

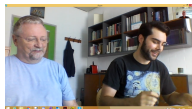

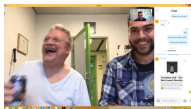

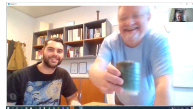

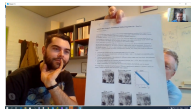

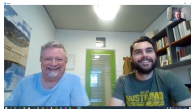

Tommy Elfving

Fear of heights:

“We once wanted to show the views from our new apartment (8th floor) where several medieval churches could be seen (Linköping is flatland) and also our medieval cathedral. But we could not make PC leave the balcony door....”
